

MISSION VALLEY BANK NOW OPEN IN VALENCIA

Valencia, California...The newest office of Mission Valley Bank has formally opened for business in Valencia to serve the greater Santa Clarita Valley. At the formal opening, Tamara Gurney, President and CEO of Mission Valley Bank said that the Bank was looking forward to serving an expanding number of customers from the new office. “We have always had a number of customers from the Santa Clarita area and now we can offer them even greater service and convenience,” she stated. “We are really delighted to be in this important region, and we are looking forward to building many new customer relationships.”

Mission Valley Bank’s newest office is located at 25060 West Avenue Stanford, at the corner of West Avenue Stanford and Avenue Scott. The bank is now open in suite 295 while ground floor offices are being completed. Mission Valley Bank’s Valencia office is located in the Valencia Industrial Center – a convenient location to serve the many growing businesses in that area.

Mark DeMik, Senior Vice President, who is well known to business and professional people in Santa Clarita, manages the new office. Mark is a former Vice President and Commercial lender with Valencia Bank & Trust and has more than 12 years of experience in the banking industry. Mr. DeMik earned his Bachelor of Business administration degree at Loyola Marymount University, where he focused his studies on finance and economics. He has lived in the Santa Clarita Valley for more than 20 years. His banking team is comprised of professional bankers with long experience in the Santa Clarita area.

Mission Valley Bank is a full-service, independent, commercial bank with headquarters in Sun Valley, California. The Bank specializes in serving small and middle market businesses and has total assets of over $100,000,000. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insures depositors of Mission Valley Bank up to $100,000.